

Sharing With Writers and Readers Writing Prompts: Historical Fiction

After looking for years and reading for long hours, there it was . . . the answer to her lifelong question.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Rotary dial phones? Yes, he remembered. He even remembered the very last call made to that very phone.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Although they were looking for it, the condition of their old home surprised them. They stumbled out of the woods, approaching and wondering why they had been sent to search it at this time.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

▪

Old time movie theaters, yes, he remembered. He had even been a projectionist at one time. Thinks back to times when the movie stopped as reels were changed, and people waited patiently for the film to continue.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Oh, that was why it used to be so difficult to print books and newspapers! Just think of placing all the letters in a tray to make just a single page.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Sharing With Writers and Readers Writing Prompts: Historical Fiction

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Sharing With Writers and Readers Writing Prompts: Historical Fiction

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---